PREFACE.

We have made out as correct an account as possible under the circumstances. As we have not the means in Louisville of estimating the expenses, we defer this item until the next annual report.

The States are arranged alphabetically—the Post Offices in Kentucky and Mississippi; in Louisiana, the Parishes. Opposite each name is the whole amount given or pledged—to the right of this the amount paid; so each will be able to turn to his own name, and see if correctly reported. We have done our utmost to have each name spelled right, and properly marked. Errors will be corrected, if made manifest.

We publish in the back of the Report, the Mississippi Charter, which was the first, and the Kentucky Charter, which was passed in pursuance of the provisions of that of Mississippi.

The names of the Agents are arranged in reference to the Post Offices, and published on the last pages of this Report. We generally have a Local Agent convenient to each subscriber; otherwise amounts may be forwarded to the President of the Auxiliary Board in each State, at our risk, or drafts made payable to his order.

Orders have been made by the Executive Board to procure rooms, purchase press, &c. Rooms have been secured, as I am informed by the Secretary. The printing of books will be commenced as soon as the necessary arrangements can be perfected.

We call special attention to the 6th, 7th, and 9th Sections of the Publishing Charter.

The 7th provides that the Blind of each State, who have not means to pay the cost of books, shall be entitled to the same, pro rata to the amount contributed in the State.

The 9th organizes a Visiting Committee, who have controlling influence over the Publishing Board.

The 6th provides that books to be published shall be selected by Superintendents of Institutions for the Education of the Blind.

D. SHERROD, Gen'l Agent,
Louisville, Ky.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL AGENT.

JACKSON, Miss., November 10, 1860.

To the Honorable the Board of Trustees, to aid in establishing a Publishing House, to print books, &c., for the benefit of the Blind.

GENTLEMEN:—

The time has arrived when it becomes my duty to render to you an account of my stewardship. I do so cheerfully, trusting that our efforts will prove a lasting blessing to those who are deprived of sight. I will proceed in the discharge of this duty as though no previous Report had been made, in order that all the facts connected with the enterprise may be before you in a condensed form.

In 1857 I traveled through South-Western Mississippi, soliciting aid in our enterprise, and secured pledges to the amount of $12,035 25, to which, as you are aware, the Legislature added $2000, after our Board was incorporated.

Previous to the incorporation of our Board, I had raised by collections, under an advisory committee, the sum of two thousand dollars for a specific purpose, viz: to publish an edition of Bullion's Analytical and Practical English Grammar, and Davie's Bourdon. On consultation, it was deemed advisable to reserve this fund, to be so used when the present contemplated Publishing House should be in practical operation, and this amount enters into the aggregate of total collections.

As we had selected Louisville, Ky., as the most eligible location for an Institution of this kind, and that point was designated in the Charter, I accordingly visited Kentucky in the winter of 1857-'58, and succeeded in procuring its incorporation, under the name of the "American Printing House for the Blind." I then visited Nashville, Tennessee, during the session of the Legislature, and procured the incorporation of an Auxiliary Board for that State.

During the year 1858 I set out from this city, on a tour through Central and Northern Mississippi, with the double purpose of soliciting aid in establishing a general Publishing House for the Blind of the United States, and also to visit as many of the members of the Legislature as practicable, with a view to the furtherance of our work, by their friendly legislation, at their ensuing session.

This trip resulted in adding to former pledges $6,025, and the passage of a general law, by the Legislature, pledging ten dollars per annum for each white blind person in the State.

In December of the same year I visited New Orleans, and early in 1859 consummated the organization of an Auxiliary Board for that State. We then made an application to the Legislature of Louisiana for a similar donation to that made by Mississippi, which was unsuccessful.

I then canvassed the Parishes embracing Western Louisiana, preparing the way for future operations. I left Louisiana in October following, Mr. J. W. Richardson having accepted the agency for that State, and I am happy to say, has been very successful in making collections, and also procuring the desired donation referred to, of $2000 from the Legislature, at their last session.

Mr. E. T. Spann, formerly a pupil in our Institution for the Blind, accepted the agency for Mississippi, and entered upon the work in October, 1859. His Report will be before you at your annual meeting.

Mr. J. R. Hogg was appointed Agent for the State of Tennessee, and has been traveling since that time.

I visited Louisville again in November, 1858, and after spending something over a month in Kentucky, proceeded, under the instruction of the Publishing Board, to organize Auxiliary Boards in some of the North-Western States, viz: Missouri, Indiana, and Ohio. I then returned to Kentucky, visiting the Capital of that State, the Legislature being in session, for the purpose of procuring an appropriation; but, after consultation with the friends of our cause, it was concluded to defer the application until the next session. Mr. J. M. Heady was appointed Agent for that State, and his correspondence reports encouraging success.

The Legislature of Tennessee, at its session in the Spring of 1860, made an appropriation of $2000, and passed a general law, giving ten dollars per annum for each white blind person in the State, between the ages of six and sixty.

In the Spring of the present year I returned to Mississippi, to make arrangements for collecting subscriptions already procured. I have seen most of the local agents, collected some subscriptions myself, and secured further pledges to the amount of $4,692.

Many miles have been traveled, and much labor performed, but a generous public have nobly responded to the appeals made,—and what seemed to many a fruitless undertaking, has proved a complete and gratifying success. We have reached the stipulated amount. There are other States to be heard from, but whether they have effected any thing or not, we have raised the $25,000. And now that we have the required amount, it becomes our duty to consider the transfer of the center of operations to Louisville, Ky., so that the actual printing of books for the education of the Blind may be commenced.

In reflecting upon the practical operations of so important an undertaking, your honorable body, whose interest in this great work has lived unabated, may deem some advisory suggestions, or recommendatory resolutions in place, in reference to the adoption of a wise and judicious policy, in the incipency of the Institution.

In order to have the entire control of the Institution, and the work, it is apparent that we must have our own machinery; but whether to execute the printing ourselves, or let it out by contract to responsible parties, may be worthy of consideration. The latter plan would exhibit the result of the means invested at once, and might be more in accordance with public sentiment, which is of importance, as the Institution is established, and must be sustained by voluntary contributions.

The question as to the best form of type for raised printing, is one involving some diversity of opinion. Several forms or styles have been tried by different publishers, and of course each have their friends. While we cannot please all, it is very desirable to adopt such a type as would be generally acceptable. It is thought by some that a new alphabet could be introduced, combining many and important improvements over any now in use, both in the facility it would afford in reading, and in the size of the type, thus greatly diminishing the bulk of the now ponderous volumes, and consequently the cost of such works as may be published. If this end could be attained, we would accomplish one very important object we have in view—the benefit of the Blind. Perhaps the best method to reach this, would be the appointment of a judicious Standing Committee, to be known as the “Type Committee,” to whom all changes in type may be referred, for their approval and adoption.

Another object we propose is to establish, sustain, and perpetuate a Library in raised print, for the Blind. A considerable endowment fund will of course be necessary for this. The means by which this is to be secured and preserved would properly form a subject for your consideration.

These, and doubtless other points, will form topics of discussion at your meeting; but I will not venture to say more, lest the absorbing interest I feel in the whole subject might lead me so far as to have the appearance of dictation.

For the interest you have ever manifested, and the encouragement you have given me in this arduous undertaking, and the confidence reposed in me, I can not but express my gratitude. May Heaven reward and bless you for your labors in the cause of humanity.

I can not close without expressions of the deepest thankfulness for the many acts of personal kindness I have received in the prosecution of my labors, and to those whose contributions have so far established the American Printing House for the Blind, and their benevolence will ever be cherished by the recipients of their benefactions with heart-felt gratitude.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

D. SHERROD.

CHARTERS

OF THE

American Printing House for the Blind.

Passed by the Legislatures of Mississippi and Kentucky.

MISSISSIPPI CHARTER.

The Charter of Incorporation of a Board of Trustees to aid in Establishing a Publishing House to Print Books in Raised Letters, for the Benefit of the Blind.

WHEREAS, It is contemplated to establish at Louisville, Kentucky, a publishing house to print books in raised letters, for the use of the blind in the United States; and whereas, to establish said publishing house, upon a permanent basis, and with a sufficient capital, contributions from various States of the Union, will be necessary. To effect which object, acts of incorporation, like this will be applied for in other States, the object of which incorporation will be to aid in collecting and effectually securing for such object the money which may be contributed in each State. Therefore it is hereby declared—

SECTION 1. That the Hon. C. P. Smith, Hon. Wm. L. Sharkey, S. P. Baley, Juno. C. Carpenter, and George S. Yerger, and their successors, be, and they are hereby declared to be a body corporate, under the name and style of the "Board of Trustees to aid in establishing a publishing house to print books, &c., for the benefit of the blind;" and as such shall have power to sue and be sued; have a common seal and to make such contracts as may be necessary to effect the objects of their incorporation.

SEC. 2. The Board of Trustees, above named, shall continue in office until their office becomes vacant by death, resignation, removal from the State, or until removal from office, as hereinafter set forth, such vacancy shall be filled by a vote of the remaining members of the Board.

SEC. 3. Dempsey Sherrod is hereby appointed the general agent of said Board of Trustees, to solicit subscriptions and contributions for the above purpose in this and the other States of the Union, and to apply to other States for an act of incorporation similar to this, for which said Board is authorized to pay him a reasonable remuneration for his services. Upon his death or resignation, the Board of Trustees shall have power to appoint another; said general agent may appoint sub-agents to aid him in the work.

SEC. 4. If any accusation for neglect or mal-practice or other cause is alleged against any member of said Board of Trustees, the remaining members of said Board may cite him to answer, and may, by their judgment, a majority concurring therein, remove him from his said office as a member of said Board.

SEC. 5. Said Board of Trustees shall appoint a Secretary and Treasurer. It shall be their duty to keep a minute of all their proceedings—certified copies of which, by the Secretary, shall be sufficient to prove said entries, when the same is necessary to be proved, as evidence in the courts of justice of this State.

SEC. 6. Said Board of Trustees shall have power to receive contributions, donations of money, and other property, for the purpose aforesaid, and shall, until the sum of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars is raised in this and other States, have power to invest the same, after deducting necessary expenses, by way of loan at interest not exceeding ten per cent., which loan shall stipulate that the interest shall be paid annually. Said loan shall be well secured by deed of trust on unincumbered property, of double the value of the amount loaned, with a power of sale in default of payment of either principal or interest, or such other security as may be perfectly satisfactory to said Board.

SEC. 7. Should said sum above named not be raised within seven years, and said publishing house not be established within nine years from the date of this charter, then the contributions shall, with the interest thereon be returned to their several contributors, who are hereby authorized in such event, to sue said Board of Trustees for the same, provided however that said Board of Trustees shall not be individually liable for the same, unless the same is lost by their own neglect.

SEC. 8. So soon as the Legislature of the State of Kentucky shall pass an act incorporating Trustees for establishing said publishing house in Louisville, and appointing Trustees to carry on said publication house, and as soon as this Board has evidence before it that the above sum of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars has been raised—then, and in that event, the fund in the hands of this Board shall be transferred to the Board of Trustees incorporated by the State of Kentucky, in such sums as may be needed from time to time, to carry on the business of publishing books as aforesaid, for the blind; Provided, that if said State of Kentucky should not pass such law incorporating said Board of Trustees, then and in that case, the Board of Trustees hereby appointed may select some other place for publication, in such State as may pass such acts of incorporation.

SEC. 9. It shall be the duty of said Board of Trustees to hold a meeting on the first Monday of November in each year, in the city of Jackson, Miss., and shall hold such other meetings as may be convened by the President. The place of meeting shall be designated by the President.

SEC. 10. Said Board, shall within ten days, from the approval of this charter by the Governor, meet for the purpose of organizing, at such place as they may agree upon, and shall then and there elect a President, Secretary, and Treasurer, who shall continue in office one year, or until the election of their successors. All elections for officers shall be held on the first Monday of November in each year. If there is a failure to elect, the old officers shall continue in office until an election takes place.

SEC. 11. The said Board shall require from the Treasurer, bond and good security, said bond to be in the penalty of ten thousand dollars, payable to the President and his successors in office; conditioned that he will take care of, and account for the money and property of the Board in his hands, and well and truly perform his duties. Said Board shall have power to pay the Secretary and Treasurer a reasonable remuneration for his services.

SEC. 12. Said Board of Trustees shall make an annual report of the moneys received and appropriated, and of all their proceedings, which shall be published in two newspapers printed at Jackson.

The preceding charter was approved and signed by His Excellency, Jno. J. McRae, 14th November, 1857.

KENTUCKY CHARTER.

An Act to Establish the American Printing House for the Blind.

WHEREAS, The State of Mississippi has, by law, made an appropriation of Two Thousand Dollars to aid in establishing in Kentucky, a National Institution, to print and circulate books in raised letters for the blind; and whereas, said State has incorporated a Board of Trustees to receive said money, and Twelve Thousand Dollars which have been subscribed for the aforesaid purpose by citizens of Mississippi, and to transfer said funds to said Institution in Kentucky; and whereas, it is anticipated that other States will make donations, and incorporate Trustees to aid in the enterprise—

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, 1. That an Institution under the name of the American Printing House for the Blind, shall be established in Louisville, Kentucky, or its vicinity, and that James Guthrie, William F. Bullock, Theodore S. Bell, Bryce M. Patten, John Milton, H. T. Curd, and A. O. Brannin, and their successors be, and they are hereby declared a body corporate under the name and style of the Trustees of the American Printing House for the Blind, with the right as such, to use a common seal, to sue and be sued, to plead and be impleaded in all courts of justice, and in all cases in which the interests of the Institution are involved. The said Trustees are hereby fully empowered to receive by legacies, conveyances, or otherwise, lands, money, and other property, and the same to retain, use, and apply to the publishing of books in raised letters for the blind in the United States; and they are authorized to purchase land, and erect, purchase, or rent buildings for the use of said Institution, and to make all such contracts as may be necessary to accomplish the purposes of their incorporation. They may appoint such officers and agents as may be necessary, may prescribe their duties, and fix the term of their offices, and the amount of their compensation. Provided, however, that no contract entered into by any officer or agent involving the payment of money, shall be binding until ratified by the Trustees. The said Trustees are hereby invested with the same powers and privileges in regard to the copy-right of books published by them, as are enjoyed by natural persons. The Trustees may adopt from time to time, such by-laws, rules and regulations, as they may deem necessary, provided they are not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of the United States, or of this State.

2. The Trustees shall elect annually, a President, a Treasurer, and a Secretary, who shall hold their offices until their successors shall be elected and duly qualified. Said Trustees may prescribe the duties and fix the compensation of said officers.

3. It shall be the duty of said Trustees to hold an annual meeting, and other stated meetings, at such times as they may appoint, and such special meetings as may be called by the President. It shall be the duty of the Trustee first named in this act, to call the first meeting of the Board within twenty days from and after the approval of this act.

4. The Trustees shall require from the Treasurer before he enters upon the duties of his office, his bond in the penalty of not less than twenty thousand dollars, payable to the President, or his successors in office, of the Board; conditioned that he will take care of, and account for all money and other property of the Board that may be entrusted to him, and that he will well and truly perform all the duties of his office.

5. The said Trustees shall have power to invest any money in the hands of the Treasurer, when to them it shall seem expedient, by way of loan, at any legal rate of interest, to be secured by mortgage on real estate, unincumbered, and of double the value of the amount loaned—the interest in all cases to be payable semi-annually.

6. It shall be the duty of the Board of Trustees, before commencing the publication of any book, to request the Superintendent of every Institution for the education of the blind, in the United States, to make out, and send to the Trustees of the Printing House, a list of such books as he may deem most desirable for the use of the blind; and said Trustees shall select for publication the book that shall have received the greatest number of Superintendents' votes in its favor. This mode of selecting books for publication shall be repeated at least once every year.

7. Every school for the blind, located in a State whose Legislature or citizens contribute to the funds of the American Printing House, shall, in proportion to the funds contributed, be entitled to copies of every book published by said House, to be distributed gratuitously to such blind persons as are unable to purchase them. And the Superintendents of said schools shall be required to report to the Trustees of said House, the names and residences of all persons to whom books may be thus distributed. The prices of books published by this Institution shall be made so low as merely to cover the cost of publication and other incidental expenses of the Institution.

8. It shall be the duty of the Board of Trustees to make an annual report of their proceedings, which shall embrace a full account of the receipts and disbursements, the funds on hand, the number of books sold, and the number distributed gratuitously; and a general statement of the condition of the Institution; and they shall transmit copies of said reports to the General Assembly of Kentucky, to the Governors of the several States of the Union, to the President of each State Board of Trustees, to the Superintendent of every Institution of the Blind, in the United States, and to every person who shall have made to the Institution a donation of five dollars the previous year.

9. The Superintendents of State Institutions devoted exclusively to the education of the blind, and the Governors of the States that aid in sustaining the American Printing House for the Blind, and the Presidents of the State Auxiliary Boards of Trustees, shall, ex-officio, constitute a Board of Visitors, each member of which shall be at all times authorized to visit the Printing House, examine the books, and investigate the proceedings of the Trustees, and the President of any State Board may, at the written request of a majority of the Visitors, call a meeting of the Board of Visitors who shall be fully empowered to investigate the proceedings of the Trustees of the Institution; and in case they shall find that said Board, or any member thereof, has mismanaged the affairs of said Institution by malfeasance in office, or neglect of duty, they may, a majority of three-fourths of all the members present concurring, declare the offices or office of said Trustees or Trustee vacant, and proceed to fill the vacancy by election, from the citizens of Louisville or its vicinity. Representatives from a majority of the States that contribute to the support of the American Printing House for the Blind, shall constitute a quorum of the Board of Trustees, and each State represented shall be allowed one vote in the action of the Board. Notice of every meeting of the Board of Visitors shall be sent by mail to all the members of the Board, and to the Trustees of the American Printing House for the Blind, at least one month before the time appointed for the meeting.

10. The Trustees of said Printing House shall continue in office until their offices shall become vacant by resignation, death, or removal from office, as herein before provided for. All vacancies caused by resignation or death, shall be filled by the remaining members of the Board.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY, }
OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE. }

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the Charter of the American Printing House for the Blind, as amended by the Legislature of Kentucky, at its present session.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and [L.S.] seal of office at Frankfort, this 4th day of April, 1860.

THOS. B. MONROE, Secretary of State,
By JAS. W. TATE, Ass't. Sec'y.

IMPORTANCE OF THIS INSTITUTION.

FROM WM. CHAPIN, ESQ., SUPERINTENDENT OF THE PENNSYLVANIA
INSTITUTION OF THE BLIND.

The enterprise of printing and publishing books in the raised letters for the use of the Blind, I regard as one of the most important connected with their education and happiness. While nearly all of the States provide for the instruction of their Blind, no especial provision has ever been made for printing books, either for school purposes or general improvement. All printing, thus far, has been done by private means, or by the Institutions themselves; and it is entirely insufficient in quantity and variety. Notwithstanding this deficiency, scarcely a volume a year is added to the Library.

The zealous and benevolent efforts of Mr. D. SUGGROB, of Mississippi, in procuring subscriptions for establishing a Printing and Publishing Fund, to supply this great want, deserve the encouragement and support of every friend of the Blind.

A convention of the Superintendents and Teachers, representing nearly every Institution for the Blind in the United States, met in New York in 1853, and after a full discussion on the subject of the lamentable deficiency of books printed in raised letters, unanimously passed the following as their first resolution:

"Resolved, That a permanent provision in aid of the education of the Blind, and for a 'suitable Library in raised letters,' should be regarded as a subject of national concern."

Four years' experience since this deliberate expression of the convention, has only strengthened the necessity of some liberal and systematic plan by which the Library for the Blind shall be speedily and materially enlarged.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10, 1857.

FROM THE REV. F. LANE, SUPERINTENDENT OF THE INSTITUTION
FOR THE BLIND, AT JACKSON, MISS.

Books for the Blind.—Material prosperity, to many, seems the sole proof, or highest result, of a people's civilization. And indeed, such prosperity does argue large advance and much of progress; for its elements are multifarious products; wise laws, judiciously administered, which give security to person and to property; easy and rapid intercommunication, extended commercial intercourse, and clearly defined political relationship with other nations; division of labor; diffusion of knowledge, and its application to the facts and phenomena of the physical world, and to the ever-recurring vicissitudes of social condition. Doubtless there was much improvement in the business of destruction when the sword was substituted for the war-club, and fire-arms for the bow and arrow, with its stone or fishbone head; and great was the progress when steam, instead of the oar or the sailing-pole, became the propelling force of vessels; and widely distant were those mental states which produced respectively the system of hieroglyphics and the art of printing. As each improvement in the moral and intellectual, or physical, world, sprang into being, it assumed its place in the mighty procession of events, and wrought out its necessary and legitimate consequences; and the sum of all these consequences is the present civilization. One of the most ennobling and distinguishing characteristics of modern civilization, is the practical application of the great idea of the worth and dignity of man—an idea whose origin is mainly due to the religious element that has all along acted as a resistless force in urging forward human progress. So powerfully operative has been this idea of man's dignity and worth, that it has begun to be believed that physical infirmity does not deprive the sufferer of all rights, and fit him only for being an object of scorn and contempt.

So potent has been its influence, that even blindness does not exclude its victims from all rights and privileges except the debasing immunity from all useful labor, and the degrading privilege of being the recipient of a stupid pity or a beggar's fee; but, on the contrary, it is thought by many that they have strong claims to enlightened sympathy and substantial and elevating aid. Within the last quarter of a century, there have been established in the United States several Institutions for the education of the Blind; and, although these Institutions have accomplished much good, yet they have fallen far short of doing all that the Blind need and the benevolent desire. A few of these Institutions have been liberally endowed by the States in which they are located; but in no instance, has there been made, by legislative enactment, any provision specifically for printing books, and all that has been done in that way has been accomplished through the agency of individual liberality. The number of books is, therefore small; and what is worse (excepting two or three), they are extremely poor in matter. There can be no difficulty in understanding that to the Blind it is an important desideratum, and indeed essential to their complete education, that there should be for them other and better books; and recently some effort has been made to minister to their necessities in this particular.

Not long since, a blind young man in the State of Kentucky, succeeded in obtaining, by private donations, funds sufficient to print Milton's Poetical Works; and now these splendid monuments of transelement genius are placed at the fingers' ends of the Blind. And surely it is most fitting that the instructive and noble productions of the immortal sightless bard should be enjoyed by his successors in misfortune.

For some time past, Mr. D. SAKKAP, formerly a pupil of the Mississippi Institution for the Blind, has been, and is still, engaged in the endeavor to establish a Publishing House, through the instrumentality of which it is proposed permanently and adequately to supply the Blind with books. The enterprise is solely of his own conception and execution; and it is gratifying to state that he has met with encouraging success. His plan as set forth in published Circulars, has been fully endorsed by many respectable citizens of Mississippi and other States; and the Legislature of Mississippi has made a conditional appropriation to aid in carrying forward his design. His plan, to me, seems entirely feasible, and the only one hitherto proposed that fully and satisfactorily promises relief to the necessities of the blind. God speed the undertaking! And it is earnestly to be hoped that there will be found wisdom and benevolence enough in the people, and their representatives in legislative bodies, in the different States, to aid Mr. Sherrod to develop his proposed scheme into a practical reality, that shall be at once a monument of enlightened liberality and a munificent dispenser of good to those who are from the cheerful ways of men cut off, and in whose path the darkness is set. If the measure of good be the degree of happiness and amount of benefit conferred upon the recipient, then there is no way of accomplishing so much, with so small an expenditure, as by aiding the enterprise Mr. Sherrod is now striving to prosecute.

Who ever reclaims a wilderness, constructs a road, or erects a light-house, is justly accounted a benefactor to mankind. And not the less is he entitled to be so regarded who contributes to give means of learning to the Blind; for he who thus does, reclaims the mind from the wilderness of ignorance, constructs a road by which the bereft of sight may travel from the region of ignorance to the realm of knowledge, or erects a beacon whose light is perceptible to the mental vision of the sightless mariner, and by which he may be guided to the port of intellectual acquirement and moral elevation.

The Blind have not been altogether unserviceable to the world; for what student of Greek does not believe that he is indebted to Homer for his clearest conceptions of the power and beauty of that language? And every one acquainted with history knows that to John Milton we are as much indebted as to any one man for the liberty of the press and all that catalogue of benedictions that follow in its train. If then, the Blind have aided in securing the freedom of the press to the seeing, is it too much to ask that the seeing should assist in making the press useful to the Blind?

REFLECTIONS ON THE LOSS OF SIGHT.

BY J. W. R.

I've seen the sun in splendor bright,
 The moon that gladdens up the night,
 The stars that gem the distant blue,
 And clouds of ever varying hue—
 I've gazed upon the mighty main,
 The hill, the valley, and the plain,
 And seen with pleasure-beaming eyes
 The mountain towering to the skies.
 But ah! those joyous scenes are o'er:
 They meet my anxious gaze no more!
 The cheering light of Heaven has fled,
 And clouds of mist are round me spread.
 All, all is darkness, blackness, night,
 Without one cheering beam of light.
 And must I here in darkness stay,
 To pine my useless life away?
 Must I from youth to age remain
 Condemned to bear a life of pain?
 Almighty Maker! God of Heaven!
 Who spake, and light to Earth was given,
 Command that light to clear away
 These dreadful mists that cloud my way!
 Dispel this dark and dismal gloom—
 Oh, let me see my friends—my home!

VISIONS OF THE BLIND.

BY J. W. R.

By anxious care and grief oppress'd,
 My wearied spirit sinks to rest,
 And finds in calm and sweet repose,
 A short respite from earthly woes.
 Then, Fancy gives me back my sight,
 And visions, beautiful and bright,
 In sweet harmonious order rise
 Before my re-illumined eyes.
 Delighted, once again I view
 The stars so bright, the skies so blue;
 The sun, the moon, again are seen;
 The earth once more is robed in green;
 The friends I love—my kindred dear—
 Again my ravished vision cheer;
 And home—sweet home, long lost in night,
 Appears again to bless my sight.
 On hills, where oft I used to stray,
 With bounding step I wend my way,
 And from their towering summits gaze
 On the loved haunts of by-gone days.
 How changed, how sweetly changed each scene;
 The valleys wear a deeper green,
 The fragrant flowers more beauteous blow,

The murmuring waters purer flow;
 All things which meet my ravished eye,
 Upon the earth, or in the sky,
 Delighted seem to share with me
 The joy of my glad destiny.
 Above the gentle murmuring breeze
 The low soft hum of busy bees
 Is heard; and birds, within the grove,
 Perched high upon the boughs above,
 Join in a soft harmonious strain,
 As if to greet me home again.
 Oh! I could sleep my life away,
 Would these sweet visions deign to stay;
 Blissful delights of fancied joy,
 My hours would pleasantly employ,
 And in this calm, unconscious state,
 Avoid the hard decrees of fate.

"THY WILL BE DONE."

BY I. B. SMITH.

When clouds are in the Christian's sky,
 And waves of trouble o'er him roll,
 Why brightly beams his placid eye,
 And whence the peace that fills his soul?
 Harmonious with the Eternal will,
 His springs of being ever run,
 And though beset by every ill,
 His spirit prays—"Thy will be done."

In earnest childlike faith he bends
 Submissive 'neath affliction's rod,
 And with the sobs of Nature blends
 More fervent prayers for strength from God.
 Should his petitions seem denied,
 And darkness still obscure his sun,
 With heart yet willing to confide,
 He sweetly breathes—"Thy will be done."

If earth-born pleasures seek to lure
 His spirit from its upward way,
 Weak in himself, he resists secure
 On strength that never can decay;
 And when the thick'ning mists of death
 Shut from his vision one by one
 The forms he loved, his last faint breath
 Still falters out—"Thy will be done."

Oh! Father, grant that I may know
 The faith that seeks Thee in despair;
 And with the power to act, bestow
 The far sublimer power to bear.
 In every grief that wrings my heart,
 Teach me to pray like thy dear Son;
 If this dread cup may not depart
 Except I drink—"Thy will be done."
